ABOUT THE GYE NYAME EMPOWERMENT PROJECT

The Gye Nyame Empowerment Project (GNEP), pronounced “jean-yuh me”, is a tax-exempt, non-profit organization dedicated to recognizing, examining, and celebrating issues pertaining to people of Pan-African descent. GNEP was officially incorporated in 2007 with the mission of providing events and programs that boost the confidence and self-esteem of those residing in underserved communities. GNEP empowers individuals, families, and communities to reach their full potential through the use of conferences, workshops, on-going programs, and other educational and social mediums.
